

CALL FOR PAPERS
2009 JOURNAL
ORAL HISTORY IN NEW ZEALAND

NOHANZ invites papers, reports and reviews for the 2009 edition of the Journal.

The Journal is an annual printed publication dedicated to the exploration and advancement of issues related to oral history. The editorial team welcomes reports on oral history projects, book reviews, documentary or exhibition reviews and contributions which report on work in progress, work completed and/or new developments in oral history in New Zealand.

In October/November 2009 the conference will be held in Wellington. This provides an opportunity for oral history researchers to present papers and the journal provides the opportunity to have them published.

The deadline for papers is October 1st 2009. All articles will be reviewed by two oral historians. It is anticipated that the journal will be completed in December 2009.
